

CINI Australia Child In Need India

Annual Reports 2013-15

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

This 'annual' report covers the two financial years from July 2013 to June 2015.

In this time there has been exciting growth and increasing support from donors and volunteers in Australia. Organizationally CINI Australia has developed a strong foundation with the capacity to contribute to change in India.

CINI Australia's inspiration is the work of Child In Need Institute, India. In 2014, CINI celebrated 40 years of empowering those living in poverty to achieve better health, nutrition, education and protection for their families.

CINI Australia was founded in 2010 so that Australians could participate in this fantastic work and help make a difference for women and children in India. CINI Australia recognizes the importance of working with an Indian organization that has a thorough understanding of local needs, capacity and resources. We collaborate with Child In Need Institute because of its respect for the rights and dignity of those in need, the quality and integrity of its staff and because its programs ensure that the benefits will reach future generations.

The CINI Australia community has already reached over 30,000 villagers of West Bengal through our CWFC program, more than 200 children affected by HIV/AIDS and over 80 mothers and children through sponsorships programs.

Our aim is to continually expand our support base and encourage contributors to become regular donors, as this is the most efficient way to fundraise. "Quick fixes" don't last. Regular contributions give us the capacity to plan programs that meet our goal of sustainable development.

CINI Australia has received the invaluable assistance of many who have given their time, expertise and effort. We are very grateful to all our volunteers, donors and sponsors for their generosity. They are all an integral part of CINI Australia's success.

I would like to acknowledge the members of the board for their work, guidance, vision, and commitment to helping CINI Australia to be the best it can be.

Jennie Connaughton
Director CINI Australia

5 CINI AUSTRALIA'S ACTIVITIES IN INDIA

5.1 Introduction

Child In Need Institute's "CINI Method" has developed over 40 years of working with disadvantaged groups in India. CINI's "rights based approach" to development is founded on the UN Declarations of Human Rights and The Rights of The Child.

Local women, with minimal education, receive training to identify and map their community's needs. They drive the health and nutrition education of the community. They learn to link with local services and schools to create a community where children are healthy, educated and protected.

CINI's method develops the community knowledge of their rights, government entitlements, how to access them and to negotiate for improvements in services. This is an important aspect of consolidating change. Those who have previously had little say in their communities are empowered to voice their own needs and priorities.

5.2 Community Development Programs

- Child and Women Friendly Communities (CWFC)
- Indian Initiative of Child Centered HIV-AIDS Approach (IICCHAA)
- Library project – "Reading For All"
- Atikram – "Breaking The Barriers for Girls"

5.2.1 “Child and Women Friendly Communities” Raiganj, North Dinajpur, India

This ‘CWFC’ community development project is now in its 4th year and reaches a population of 32,000 across 12 villages in Banglabari, close to the Bangladeshi border. This is one of the most vulnerable districts in West Bengal where only 36% of women are literate.

The project brings together the children, self-help group women, local government and existing services. It starts in pregnancy to ensure the health and nutrition of pregnant women and babies and safe childbirth. ‘At risk’ children are supported to return to school and adolescents learn about their reproductive rights. The whole community addresses the protection of its children from child labour, child marriage and trafficking. People learn how to access important government support for those living below the poverty line.

The project achievements include:

HEALTH and NUTRITION

- Nearly 100% uptake of pregnancy supplemental nutrition (aprox 400 mother/yr)
- Improvement in early breast feeding – still work to be done
- 15% increase in the important first trimester (early) pregnancy health checks
- Improved post birth check ups and family planning
- Nutritional support and follow up of severely malnourished children
- Increased immunization rates of children <6 yrs, now at 98% (3978 children)
- Uptake of government program to provide toilets in homes

EDUCATION

- 24 ‘drop out children’ re enrolled in school and followed up
- Training 1782 adolescents and SHG women to monitor ‘girls into school’ program which includes access to books and meals and Increases girls school enrollment
- Vocational training 20 adolescents
- Development of parent-teacher groups, teacher training and evaluation
- Children’s groups where they learn about health, hygiene and safety
- Women’s training in early childhood development

PROTECTION

- Community training on the risks of early marriage, child trafficking and gender equity
- Local authorities learn to recognize ‘at risk’ children as vulnerable rather than criminal
- 21 Drop in centres for vulnerable children
- 51 adolescent groups to build their knowledge and role in the community
- Direct interventions re child marriage, missing and trafficked children (20 children)

COMMUNITY

- Local government, village leaders and self help group women training on children’s rights to health, education and on creating child friendly schools
- Development of 12 Village Level Child protection committees that involve adults, adolescents and children in processes to report, monitor and respond to at risk children

Budget Apr 2013-Mar 14: $ 29,581 Apr 2014-Mar 15: $ 29,275

5.2.2 Indian Initiative of Child Centered HIV-AIDS Approach “IICCHAA “

IICCHAA is a community-based initiative for children infected or affected by HIV/AIDS.

This is CINI Australia's third year with IICCHAA, which now reaches 247 children from 192 families. The program started in S24 Parganas (Kolkata) and Raiganj. Last year we were able to take on a third district, Murshidabad. CINI aims to develop Indian support for its programs and to decrease dependence on overseas aid. This has been successful in Raiganj where the Indian company, TATA is now partially funding the IICCHAA program.

Whilst the Indian Government provides HIV treatment, its services do not address nutrition, isolation, stigma, and the economic and psychological impacts of HIV/AIDs on children.

IICCHAA has a child-centred approach. Families attend support group meetings and receive home visits. They learn about their illness, health, hygiene and nutrition. IICCHAA strengthens children's coping skills and builds family communication. Adolescents learn about sexual reproductive health issues and their right to live free from sexual abuse. It places special emphasis on safeguarding future plans of children whose parents have HIV/AIDS. It establishes community support groups to reduce isolation and stigma.

Another 40 families have been identified to join the program and older families now share their experience and knowledge with the new families.

IICCHAA strengthens links between government services, NGOs, HIV positive networks and community groups so that together they can develop 'child friendly' social services. CINI has a significant advocacy role in addressing discrimination in schools, workplaces, medical care and the community. As a result parents have been accepted back at work and children at school. By educating school staff and local councils, families are better able to access much needed government services such as food rations and financial assistance.

There is an enormous need for this very effective program. CINI is now focusing on training more women facilitators to increase its capacity to assist more affected families.

Budget Apr 2013-Mar14: $24,719 Apr 2014-Mar15: $34,281

5.2.3 Library project: “Reading For All”

This project was developed with University of WA medical students to provide children in Kolkata’s slums with access to books, computers and a safe place to read.

The first “library resource” is at Rani Bhabani, a school for boys (9 -14 years) in Kolkata. CINI provides the residential care and essential education support for the boys who attend a government school.

100 children are now using the library. This ‘resource’ includes bookshelves, computer, music system and DVD player, text, story, drawing and reference books, comics, magazines and newspapers. Staff and children have had library training and local volunteers and donors assist. The set up cost was $1700 and in 2015 a further $750 was contributed for additional maps, teaching materials, books and music.

CINI Australia invites those with a love of reading to support further library resources. It is an ideal project for Australian schools and students.

5.2.4 Atikram: “Breaking The Barriers” - further education for girls

Two sisters made a special donation in remembrance of their brother Peter Wootton. They wished to give a little back to the country that he loved and where he spent much of his life. Their contribution has gone towards CWFC, the library project and Atikram.

The Atikram initiative aims to break the barriers to secondary and tertiary education faced by girls from economically disadvantaged families. Many young girls want to continue beyond basic primary school but their families are unable to support the costs involved. As a result they leave school and are subject to economic pressure to marry young, work or risk being trafficked.

Atikram provides 20 girls with mentoring, academic assistance, books, and life skills training over a three years of secondary school. They receive in English, math and science coaching and there are plans to include computer training. Their families are encouraged to be involved in their daughters' progress.

These girls come from south of Kolkata where almost 50% of girls are married before the legal age of 18. Atikram will help these girls have a better chance of further education and self-sufficiency.

According to the World Bank an extra year of secondary schooling can increase a girl's future wages by 10-20% that in turn affects the well being of her family.
(Plan: The State of The World's Girls 2009)

5.3 CINI Australia Sponsorships

CINI Australia's sponsorships contribute to whole community programs.

5.3.1 "Sponsor a Mother and Help her Child" Sponsorships

In rural Patra, south of Kolkata, sponsorships start in pregnancy to ensure adequate nutrition, health care, safe childbirth and continue with the mother and baby to the age of 2 years. CINI community workers visit young mothers in their homes and link them with the local health services. They support them in all aspects of care until the baby is 2 years. This improves the young mothers ability to care for her child and the family's understanding of her needs.

Currently 20 sponsors provide $9000 over 3 years to maternal and child health programs.

5.3.2 "Educate a Child" Sponsorships

Topsia is an inner city Kolkata slum district where these sponsorships support CINI's Urban Unit to run afterschool education centers for vulnerable children.

Families survive here through leatherwork, rag picking, the tanning industry, bag making and plastic work - difficult, low paid work. Education takes second place in the battle to earn an income. Most of the children are first generation school goers and CINI's primary objective is that they complete elementary education. These children are eager to learn and even at a young age know that education is an important step on their path out of poverty. Adolescents become role models for younger children and advocates for change in their community.

The 24 "Educate A Child" sponsors provide $6000 over the 2-year period

The financial statements were prepared by accountants, LCI Partners Pty Ltd of Caringbah, NSW, audited by independent auditor Richard Gregson of Pure Integrity (2014) and Walker Wayland (2015) and approved by the board.

Explanatory comments

2014-15

1. The Income and expenses include monies paid by riders into CINI accounts for tour and travel costs. These were 'pass through' funds and not paid from CINI Australia funds.

Riders completely covered all their costs.

2. Only $2750 was transferred to CINI India in the 2014-15 compared to $67,212 in 2013-14
Reasons:

- A. 2014-15 Full year budget transferred
- B. As single amount of $ 67,212 in April 2014
- C. Decision made to transfer 2015-16 budget in 2 half year payments
- D. First payment of $39,000 delayed until July 2015, second payment of approximately $33,000 due Oct 15 to meet the April 2015- March 16 India financial year budgets.

Administrative costs were $4262 in 2013-14 and $4320 in 2014-15.

CINI Australia is committed to keeping expenses to a minimum whilst ensuring that it remains solvent and financially secure. This is only possible with the pro bono assistance we receive.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30 JUNE 2015

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of preparation

The financial statements cover CINI Australia as an individual entity, incorporated and domiciled in Australia. CINI Australia is a company limited by guarantee.

The financial Statements were authorised for issue on 21 October 2015 by the directors of the company.

The directors have prepared the financial statements on the basis that the company is a non-reporting entity because there are no users who are dependant on its general purpose financial statements. These financial statements are therefore special purpose financial statements that have been prepared in order to meet the requirements of the Corporations Act 2001. The company is a non-for-profit entity for financial reporting purposes under Australian Accounting Standards.

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the mandatory Australian Accounting Standards applicable to entities reporting under the Corporations Act 2001 and the significant accounting policies disclosed below, which the directors have determined are appropriate to meet the needs of members. Such accounting policies are consistent with those of previous periods unless stated otherwise.

The financial statements have been prepared on an accruals basis and are based on historical costs, modified, where applicable, by the measurement at fair value of selected non current assets, financial assets and financial liabilities. The amounts presented in the financial statements have been rounded to the nearest dollar.

Accounting Policies

(a) Revenue and other income

Revenue is recognised when the amount of the revenue can be measured reliably, it is probable that economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the entity and specific criteria relating to the type of revenue as noted below, has been satisfied.

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and is presented net of returns, discounts and rebates.

Donations and bequests are recognised as revenue when received.

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest method, which for floating rate financial assets is the rate inherent in the instrument.

All revenue is stated gross of the amount of goods and services tax (GST), as the entity is not registered for GST.

Sale of goods

Revenue is recognised on transfer of goods to the customer as this is deemed to be the point in time when risks and rewards are transferred and there is no longer any ownership or effective control over the goods.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

(b) Plant and equipment

Plant and equipment are measured on a cost basis and are therefore carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. In the event the carrying amount of plant and equipment is greater than its estimated recoverable amount, the carrying amount is written down immediately to its estimated recoverable amount and impairment losses recognised either in profit or loss or as a revaluation decrease if the impairment losses relate to a revalued asset. A formal assessment of recoverable amount is made when impairment indicators are present.

The cost of fixed assets constructed within the association includes the cost of materials, direct labour, borrowing costs and an appropriate proportion of fixed and variable overheads.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the association and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance are recognised as expenses in profit or loss during the financial period in which they are incurred.

(c) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within short-term borrowings in current liabilities on the statement of financial position.

(d) Income Tax

No provision for income tax has been raised as the entity is exempt from income tax under Div 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

(e) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the entity has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will result and that outflow can be reliably measured. Provisions recognised represent the best estimate of the amounts required to settle the obligation at the end of the reporting period.
